Penny,
Happy Birthday on Valentine. Fuck
Be my Valentine. Fuck
it was something like that.
I'm trying to think of something mushiness but I can't. I really can but you know how shy bashful, and unapproachable I am.
Too bad about that fun time you had with good ole R.J. The class was mighty dead but I bet the study hall was a little more exciting. Be real extra sweet anyway. Be real extra bad this and do all kinds of fun stuff and junk. O.K.? O.K.
Love Sue

CLASS MOTTO:

In Ourselves Our Future Lies

CLASS COLORS:

Royal Blue and Silver

CLASS FLOWER:

White Orchid

Always onward—as we have done for the last twelve years, we will continue to shape our lives in the varied ways available to us.

The Class of 1965 has had three great years at Fergus Falls Senior High, shadowed by a few sad clouds. It was in our Sophomore year that a tragic car-train accident ended the life of Luanne Kantrud. Many Classmates remember her with sorrow, as they realize she can never have the opportunities the future will offer them.

As these memorable years passed, we added to our remembrances with "I Remember Mama" as our Junior Class play, and "You Can't Take it with You" in our Senior year. Of course, each senior felt especially proud of his athletic teams which outshone those of recent years. Charging the line, shooting those baskets, pinning their men, and racing to the finish, our boys gave their very best.

As for festivities, Homecoming with all its floats was tiring but exciting. The Dances, "Sadie Hawkins", Snoball, and Prom, provided other outlets for our energies.

Seriously, our Class, as the largest yet to graduate from our school, has many individuals with outstanding qualities, for whom the future will no doubt hold successes and failures, in the years to come. Among us are those who have been inspired through the years to further their education and those who will be going directly into their occupations.

Nevertheless, the Class from the mid-Sixties should regard their high school graduation not as the end of the road, but as a crossroads with a multitude of highways stretching to the unknown future.

CLASSES

SCIENCE

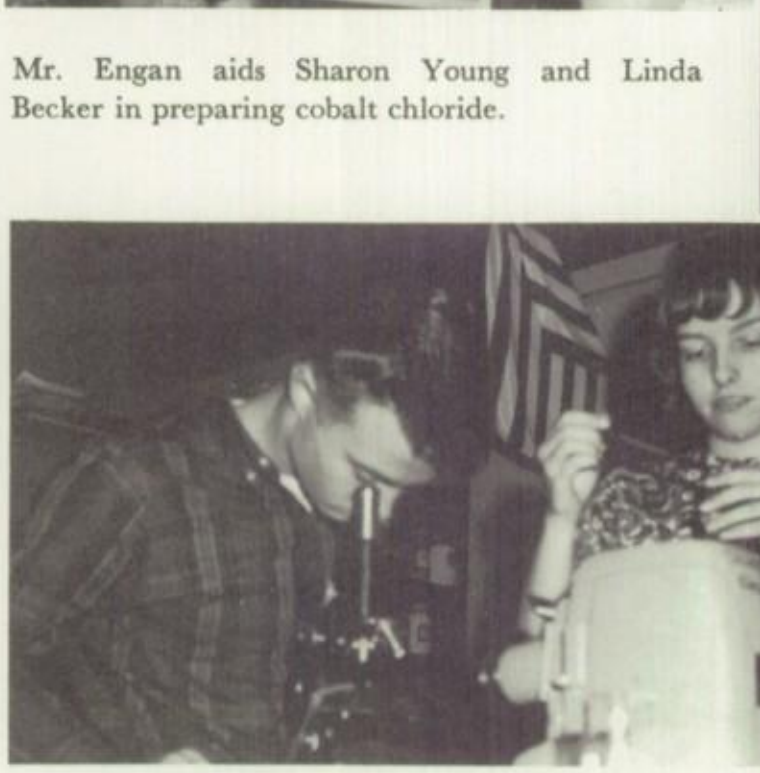
From intensive study of the smallest of microscopic specimens to consideration of the probabilities of outer space, students pursue a variety of scientific studies. Experiments serve to point out basic truths in the fields of physics and chemistry. Biology students investigate the structures of plant and animal life as they dissect representative forms of life. Chemistry students explore various forms of matter and the reactions of various chemicals. Physics students learn about the principles of machines from the simplest forms to the complex computers. They study transformation of energy, electricity, sound, heat and light. Natural Science assists the student in the understanding of his physical self and his natural environment.

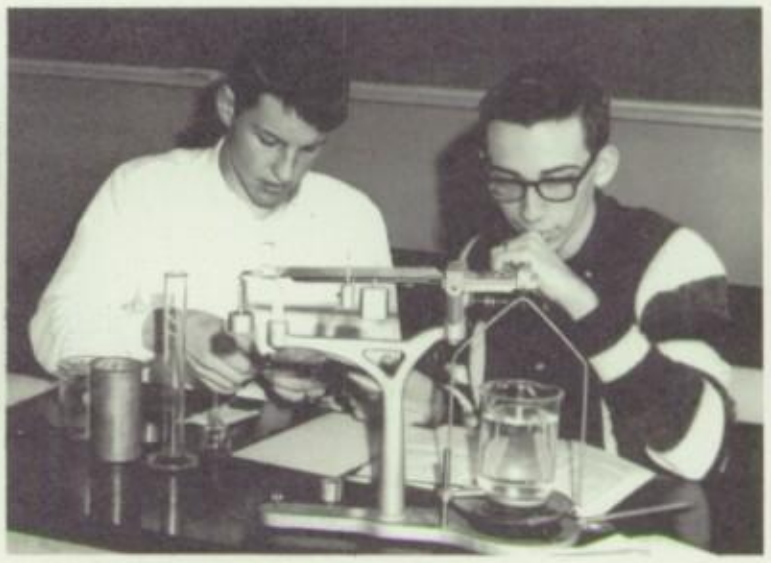
Three Chemistry students discover the wonders of the Mettler Balance.



Mr. Engan aids Sharon Young and Linda Becker in preparing cobalt chloride.

Jim Scott and Sandra Koppe examine the Brownian movement.

Biology students study structure of leaves.



Gerald Worner and Tony Riviere demonstrate Archimedes principle.

Richard Berge and David Graham experimenting with Hooke's law.

Careful Boys! Precision counts in Physics.

Ryan Berg and Neil Gloier try to find the constant of elasticity.

MATHEMATICS

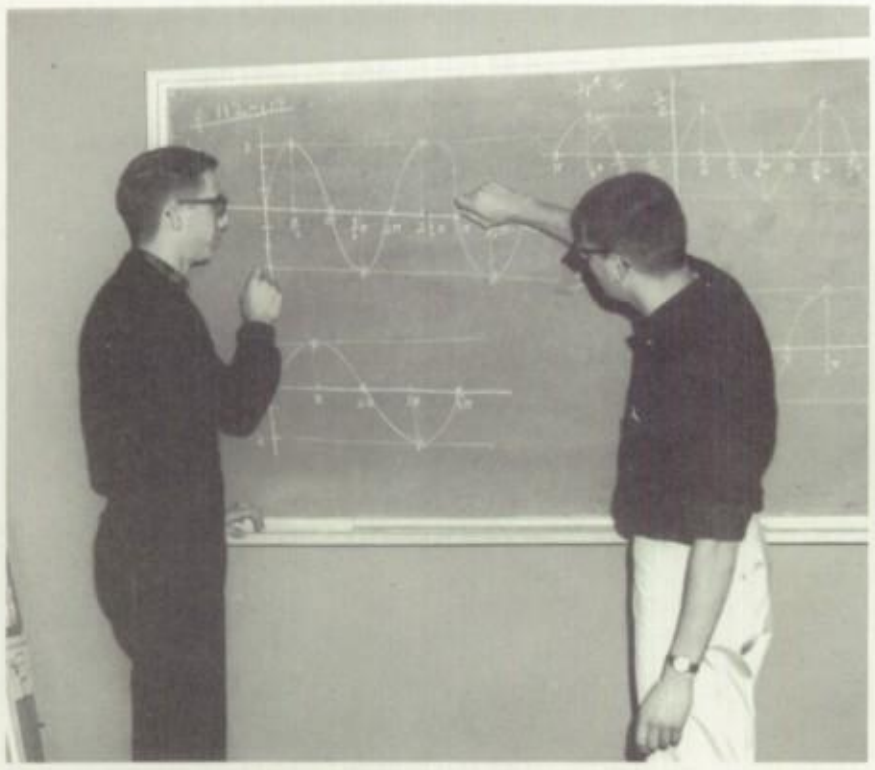
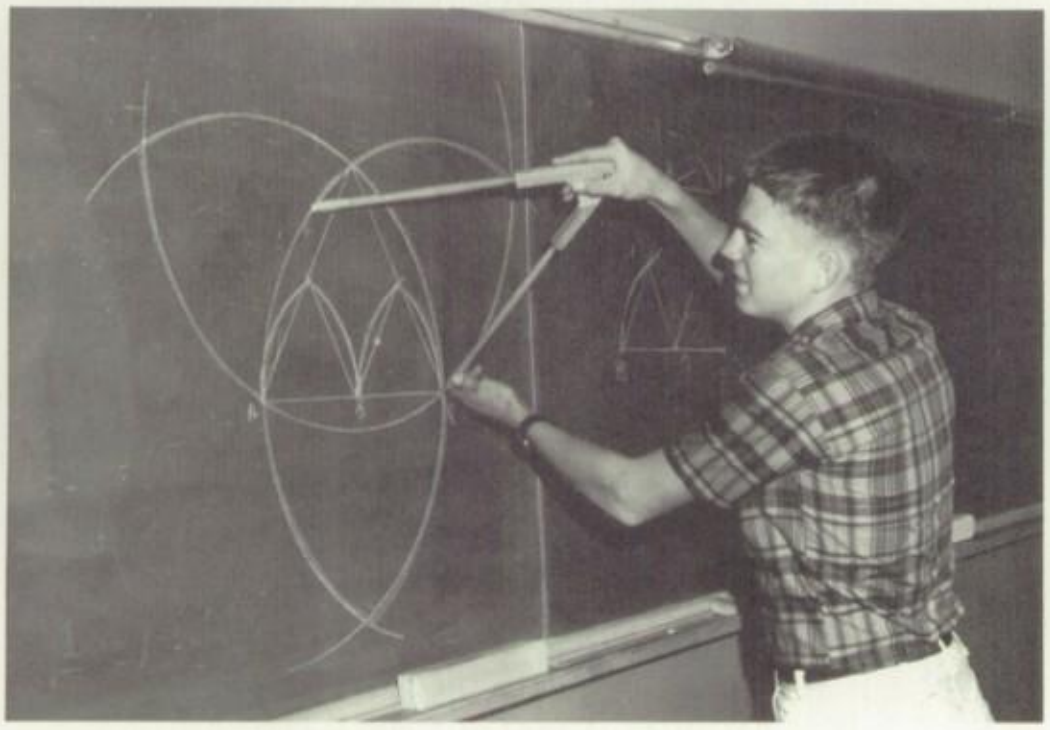
As the scientists, engineers, doctors, lawyers, businessmen, farmers, and parents of the future, F.F.H.S. students are offered a solid background in mathematics. For those students who plan no future education after high school, Consumer's Math improves mathematical competence and promotes intelligent buying. The sophomores go beyond the freshman year of simple algebra in Higher Algebra, which introduces logarithms, imaginary numbers, and the slide rule. Lines, planes, and solids are encountered in Plane and Solid Geometry in the junior year. Seniors explore problems of trigonometry, analytics, calculus, and statistics in Trigonometry and Advanced Math. The importance of mathematics as stressed in F.F.H.S. is logical thinking for a successful future.



Gerry Worner and Cordell King demonstrate how to graph the equation y=3 sin x in advanced math.



Fred Huss shows that curves determine angles.

Mary Morstad constructs a scalene triangle.

HISTORY

Mrs. Berge's sophomores study President Grant's administration by use of "buzz groups."

Students attentively listen to Mr. Noack.

In Senior High, History is divided into three segments. American History as a sophomore, World History as a junior, and Social Science as a senior.

American History presents the students with a detailed study of our nation's proud past. Therefore, it develops an understandable knowledge of our country and its heritage.

World History confronts the students with problems involving both nations and races of the world. Political, economic, and geographic situations in different areas of the world are studied.

Social Science concerns government, economics, and sociology. Students learn about the functions of government as well as how to develop a better understanding of themselves and those around them.

Map study enlightens Mr. Koepsell's pupils.

By writing the preamble to the constitution, Mr. Peterson instructs American History class.

Students in Mrs. Bechtel's World History class discuss the colonization of Africa.

Miss Sevada awaits the definition of "persimmon" from one of her students.

A map of Britain aids Mr. Raaen's pupils in gaining insight into the Anglo-Saxon Period.

ENGLISH

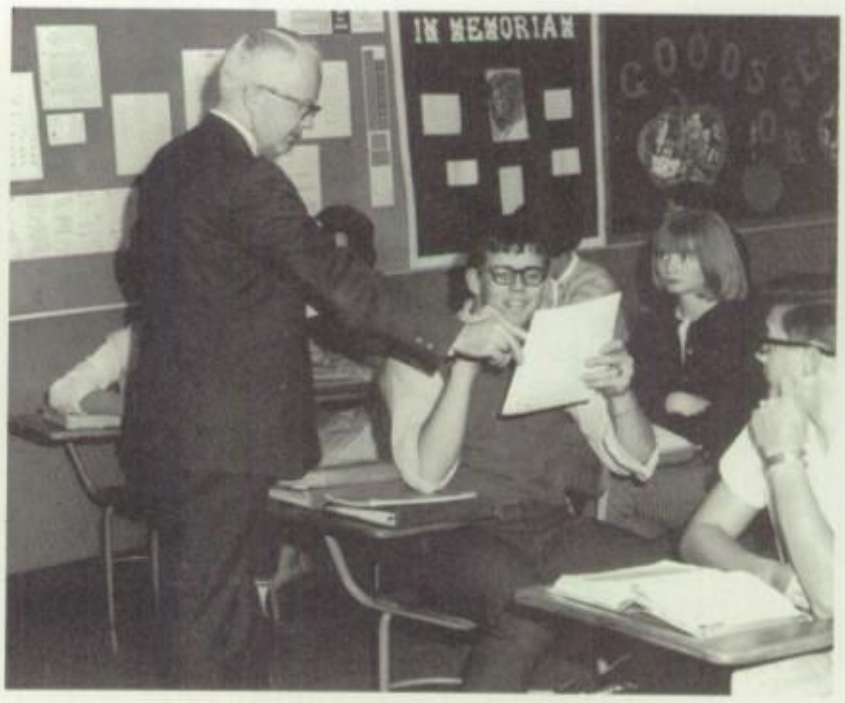
The study of English as a required subject is basic to our whole education. It provides us with the essentials for good speaking, writing, and spelling. Through the reading of literature we are transported to worlds of make believe or true life. Both give us a deeper understanding of the people and problems of yesterday and today.

Both grammar and literature comprise all courses in English, with generally more emphasis placed on literature. Senior literature deals with the growth of the English language due to such great authors as Shakespeare, Chaucer and Kipling. Juniors concentrate on the works of American authors and how they have influenced the development of our country. Sophomores study works by authors of various nations.

Miss Quam explains the correct procedure to use in writing bibliographies.

Mr. McDonald points out test errors to an "overjoyed" Dan Larson.



Scene of Deutschland interests German II student, Dave Graham.

Geography is part of French class.

LANGUAGE

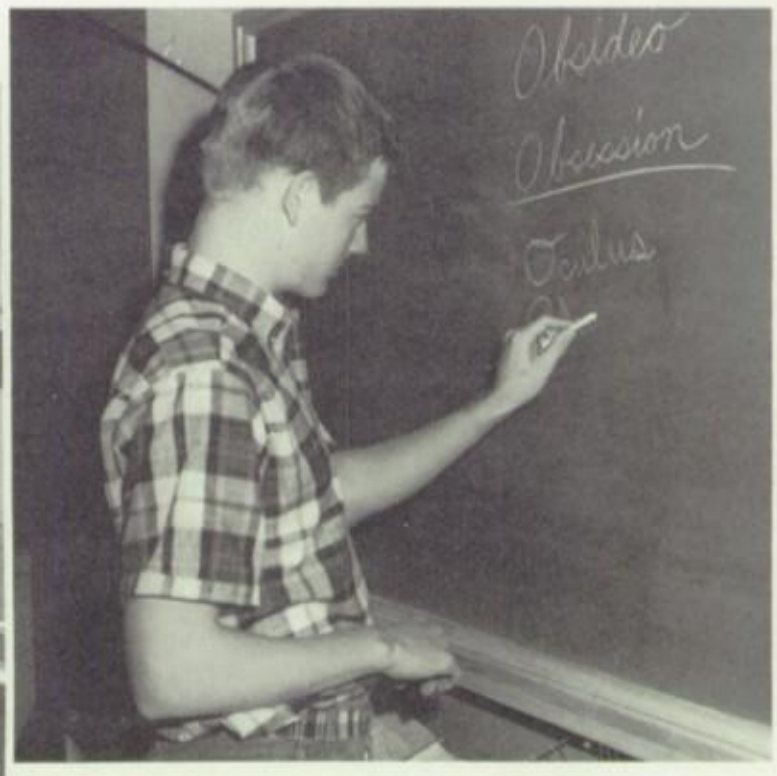
Learning to speak and write a foreign language not only provides a deep sense of satisfaction, but also is a useful art in today's highly technological world. In order to keep pace with this ever-changing world, FFHS offers German, Latin, and French.

Through speaking and writing, German students learn about the culture and history of Germany. Students also enjoy singing German tunes and eating with fellow "Deutschers."

Latin provides a better understanding of the English language and serves as a basis for many other languages.

French students study the French language with the aid of tape recordings and movies. History and culture are taught by singing French songs, and speaking and writing reports and themes.

Miss Stelzig asks a question on French government.



Dan Estrem illustrates derivations.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

In this modern age, with the many advanced appliances, fabrics, and foods, a homemaker must be a woman with many varied skills.

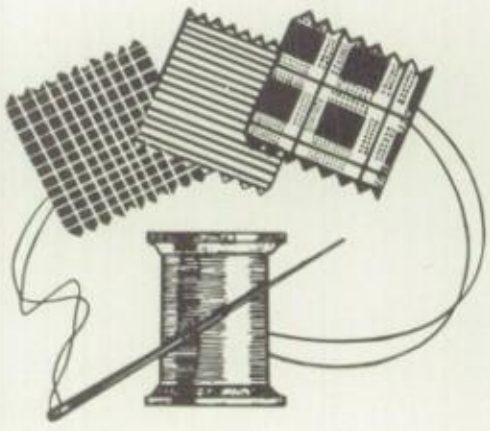
Most girls are interested in learning the art of running a home. The Home Economics Department enables girls to acquire the knowledge and skills they will need in order to be successful homemakers.

Students have the opportunity to cover the fields of food, clothing, and care of the home in each of the three courses offered in Senior High—Home Economics IV, Home Economics V, and Advanced Homemaking.

In addition to the basic subjects—cooking and sewing—students can gain knowledge in money management, careers outside of the home, appliance selection, family relationship, and child care.

These subjects are covered extensively in Advanced Homemaking, which is mainly a pre-marriage course.

Home Ec girls question, "Is it ready?"



Linda Jennen and Carla Graff create a Christmas scene.

Lorraine Lukken and Kathy Patterson design a Christmas tree.

ART

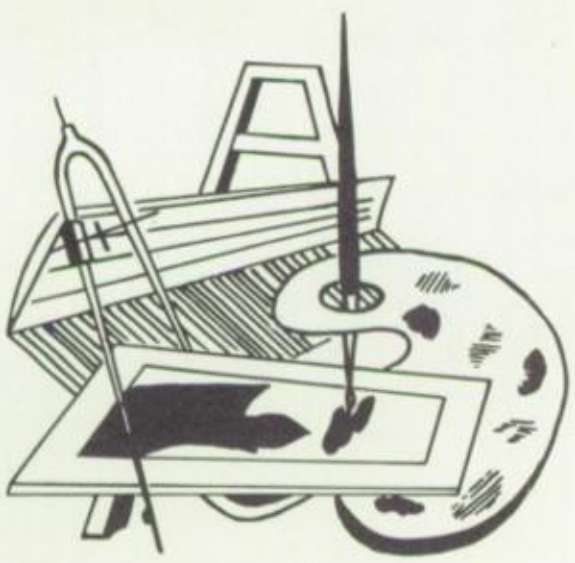
Art students express themselves in paintings.

Kathleen Sanders and Pat Fay prepare to frame their work.

Allen Andvik asks Peter Kjaglien's "professional" advice.



Students in Senior High desiring to further their knowledge in art have the opportunity to do so through the excellent art courses offered.

Art design, form, and color are studied in Art I and Art II, with work in painting, drawing, and modeling. Art III students acquire skills in the commercial and graphic arts—lettering, posters, and advertising.

An Art IV class and an Arts and Crafts class are also offered.

Art IV deals mainly with all phases of painting. In Arts and Crafts, students can display their talents through work with leather, wood, ceramics, and metals.

In addition to securing a good background for a vocation in art, the art student has the opportunity to acquire valuable knowledge and skills that may be applicable to his future life.

Greg Pederson finds that using an adding machine requires concentration.

Keep your eyes on the copy, Bonnie!

Mr. Wollan offers informal tips on office procedure.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Steno students study.

Any business course you take now is bound to help you in whatever you plan for the future.

Typing is of value for business as well as personal use. Once learned, your typing skill is yours for a lifetime.

Learning how to keep accurate records is the purpose of bookkeeping. Students who take bookkeeping find this class imperative if they plan on going into the business field.

Clerical Office Practice teaches students how to operate business machines as well as filing, interviewing, telephoning and office routine. This class plus Stenography I and II are necessary for students preparing for secretarial work. Students taking Stenography I and II are taught the skills of taking shorthand and dictation.

Mr. Halverson supervises Future Farmers in Ag Shop.

Advanced drawing boys intently at work.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

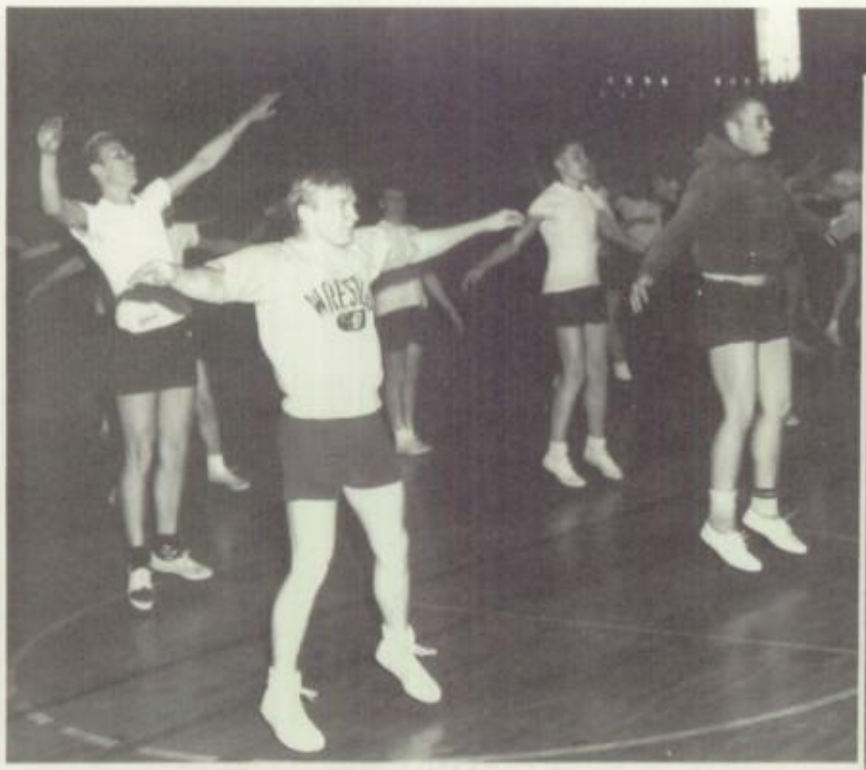
Vocational training begins in secondary school and continues on into a trade or technical school. F.F.H.S.'s vocational curriculum provides students with an excellent basis for further study.

Industrial Arts is initiated with the study of metals and continues on with courses in advanced drafting and woodworking. Advanced Shop I supplies more detailed work in the building trades.

Our Agriculture section provides students with assistance in understanding the manifold phases of agronomy. Units provided include: study of tools, machinery, equipment, and farm administration.

Dave tries out the shop's lathe.

Harold Phillips shows his skill in artistic welding.



Almost Airborn

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

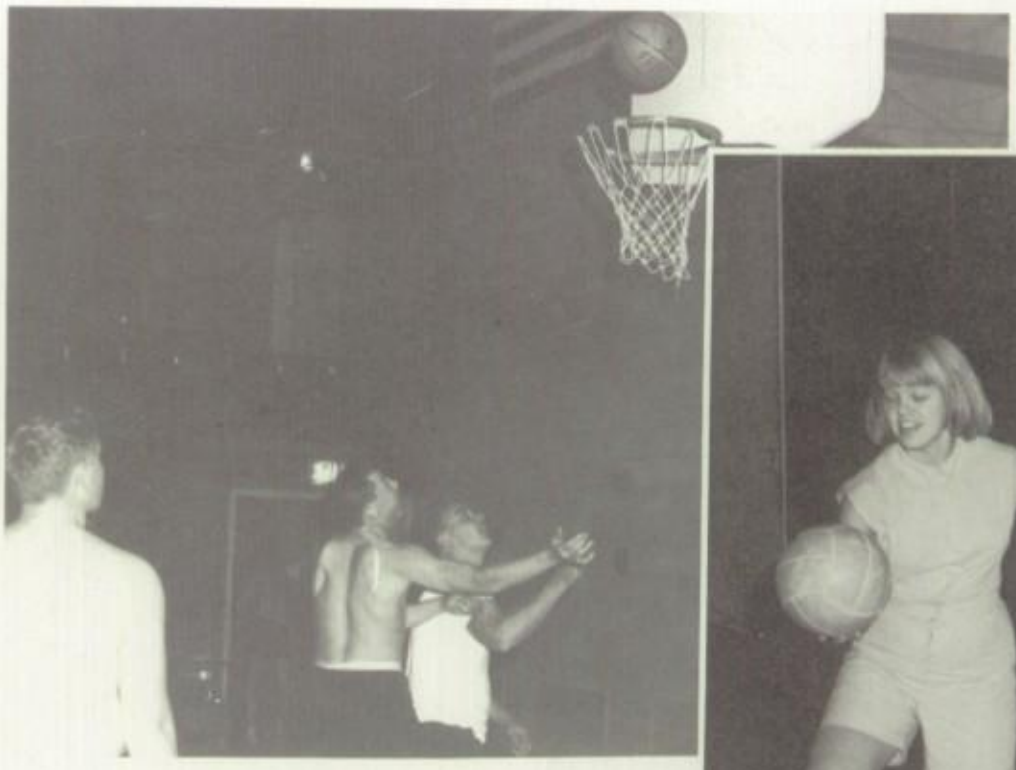
ONE, two, three, four . . . (Groan), two, three, four . . . THREE, two, three, four—that's the sound of a hard-working gym class! Besides developing physical fitness through calisthenics, the Physical Education classes develop good sportsmanship and skill as a team.

Under their instructor's supervision, each class participates in a wide variety of competitive sports. Archery, field hockey, and badminton are among the girls' activities. The boys also have marching and drills along with touch football and wrestling. This year rope jumping for the boys was added to the list. Basketball, softball, volleyball, and ping-pong were played by both classes. The relatively new idea of bowling teams was included this year and enjoyed by all participants.

Did he make it?



Janet prepares to whallop one.

Mr. Leland decides on his next "victim."

A student seeks advice from counselor Leland.

GUIDANCE

Have any questions, problems, or real headaches? Answers to your difficulties can usually be found behind the counselor's door. The doors of the Guidance Office are open at all hours. Here information can be found on almost every occupation imaginable. Problems in school are often discussed and worked out, changes in schedules are arranged, questions on future education are answered, and facilities of colleges and trade schools are explained to find the best future for each individual. Mr. Leland, as counselor, has a big job on his hands, but we as students would definitely be lost without the guidance program.

Mr. Washburn charts the results.

JUNIOR CLASS STORY

With first-year fears behind us, we Juniors confidently entered our next year at FFHS. We began the year by putting our heads together to create a Homecoming float and skit, and chose three lovely attendants to represent us in the Homecoming Royalty. Then, in our first dramatic production, "The Miracle Worker," we demonstrated our individual acting abilities.

On the basis of citizenship and leadership we elected Girls' and Boys' State representatives. Also, one of us will have the opportunity to represent our class in a foreign nation as an American Field Service student.

Weeks of preparation and planning came to a climax as we celebrated the 1965 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. Our preparation efforts proved successful on that pleasant and exciting evening.

With this year's experience, we feel our class is ready to undertake the responsibilities of a Senior Class.

Junior Class Officers: Curtis Heiserman, Debbie Hunt, Jill Barnum, Paul Brooberg.

Coach R. J. Keopsell completed his second and best season this year as head "Otter" football coach, ending with a 4—4—1 record. On the Labor Day opener at Pelican Rapids, the "Otters" fought to a 6—6 tie with the Vikings after being picked to win the game. Once again Wahpeton was picked over the "Maroon and Gold" by area sports writers and, as in '63, the "Otters" upset the "Wops" 13—0, due to a strong defensive effort. The next Friday night was a big one for the "Otters" considering they came out on top of the Detroit Lakes "Lakers" 12—6, for their first conference win since 1961. The following contest was a hard-fought 20—13 loss to the always powerful Moorhead "Spuds." The second in five consecutive "tough" games for the "Otters" was a 28—0 loss to the 4th ranked Bemidji "Lumberjacks." Due to the fine passing game played by the Wheaton "Warriors", the Fergus gridders were downed 25—7. Our next game was the "thriller" of the season with the "mighty Otters" winning 13—7 over the Breckenridge "Cowboys." Fergus scored two touchdowns, both on passes, in ten seconds. The first touchdown came with seven seconds left in the half, and the second with three seconds to go in the game. The following week the "Otters" lost to a fired-up Alexandria team, 13—6. To end the season on a happy note, the Fergus gridders stormed to a 47—7 victory over a smaller and slower Little Falls team.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Having a good season, the Otter harriers traveled to meets in Breckenridge, Fargo, Glenwood, Moorhead, and Detroit Lakes, and were hosts several times at Fergus. The harriers captured first place at Breckenridge and the District meet and took several seconds. They placed a respectable third in the Region VI meet at Detroit Lakes.

Four seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore comprised the core of the Otter traveling squad.

HOCKEY

Hockey at FFHS is an enterprise which is still young and growing. The participants of this rough sport must endure many drills, exercises, and plenty of cold weather.

Despite the returning lettermen and the eager new members, the squad faced experienced competition and had a hard season. They finished with a 0—14 record.

WRESTLING

Coaches Green and Woolson spent many weeks building the most competent wrestling squads FFHS has yet produced. As a result of these long hours on the mat doing exercises and practicing holds and methods of escape, Otter contenders represented Fergus Falls in the state meet held in March. Vance Fonken, Roger Brist, Harold Phillips, and Tom Olson were wrestlers chosen to go. The boys did well all along the line. Otters won first place at the district meet held February 20 in Moorhead. At the regional meet in Alexandria on February 27 the fellows tied for fourth place.

SCOREBOARD

The Otters' basketball team, coached by Ken Naffziger, posted their best season record in seven years. They racked up 13 wins and 5 losses. Although some games were lost, the squad won a number of particularly satisfying victories. Their triumphs include: conquering high-ranking Bemidji, defeating Fargo—the favorite for the North Dakota state championship, sharing top honors in the Resort Region Conference, and emerging as a strong favorite to win the district championship. The team has given spectators some excellent teamwork throughout the season. As a result of their team spirit exhibited in games as well as during the long hours of practice the team readied itself for the "new season", the tournaments. The tournaments were the culmination awaited since '65 seniors were mere sixth graders.

BASEBALL

The Otter Baseball season began on March 23 with six returning lettermen being the nucleus of a young team. Practice sessions were held in the gymnasium with work on conditioning and fundamentals. When weather permitted, the squad worked outside, concentrating on hitting.

The squad compiled a win-loss record of 3—5. Drawing a bye in the first round of subdistrict play, they defeated Battle Lake 12—8 to win the subdistrict title. In the first round of district play Fergus was ousted by Moorhead 6—1. Bob Warn was honored as the most valuable player of the 1963-64 season.

TRACK

Held back by bad weather, the Otter track program was late in getting started. During the season the Otter thinclads participated in eleven meets and did quite well for themselves. There were four returning lettermen who strengthened the team and Captain George Townsend set a new school record of 4.43.8 in the mile run at the District meet.

The team was coached by Mr. Koepsell and assistant coach was Mr. Ness. Curt Thompson was elected captain for the 1965 season.

SOPHOMORE CLASS STORY

The year 1964 was a memorable one for us. Wide-eyed and confused we sophomores entered the Senior High. Over three hundred of us made the halls a little more crowded and the lunch line a little longer as we tried to take our place in this new environment. Our first new social experience was the preparation for Homecoming. Three girls were chosen as representatives in the Royal Court. Our float reflected many hours of hard work mingled with fun and excitement of the day to come. On Homecoming Day we received the prize for the best skit. This acting talent was put to serious use as we participated in two one-act plays sponsored by the Thespians. The Snoball Dance and the Sophomore Party were the highlights on our sophomore calendar.

Having taken our place in the school, we will look forward to our junior year.

OTTER ROYALTY REIGNS

Otter Homecoming, 1964, began with the traditional morning convocation and the presentation of class skits. The top award went to the sophomores for their skit entitled "Hansel and Grindl."

The climax of the days of work and anticipation came with the crowning by Student Council member James Nye, of KING DAVID OLSON and QUEEN CONNIE DOMHOLT.

The German Club placed first in the afternoon float competition. Following the parade, a pepfest led by the cheerleaders was held on Lincoln Avenue.

Included in the evening festivities of Homecoming Day were the presentation of red roses to Queen Connie Domholt prior to the game and a salute to the royalty by the band at half-time.

The Otters failed in their attempt to "Flap The Jacks" with Bemidji's Lumberjacks claiming the victory 28—0.

Spirits were revived, however, by the dance held for students and alumni after the game.

Sophomore Attendants: Nancy Larson, Stephi Araskog, and Nancy Hunt.

Junior Attendants: Barbara Olson, Debby Hunt, and Sue Worum.

Connie Nelson works with young charges at McKinley School.

Future disc-jockeys at KOTE are P. Kjaglien, A. Andvik, P. Ellingson.

CAREERS DAY

Knowing and doing do not always go together, but seniors managed to combine the two successfully as they spent a day downtown. They took part in the everyday problems and tasks of the business or profession of their choice, while the helpful local businessmen served as instructors, guides, and counselors in their role of employer-for-a-day. Seniors have opportunity to take part in two such work days. Many thus gain a little experience and insight into different areas of business. Employers report to the school on how the students performed while on the job.

JUNIORS PRESENT "THE MIRACLE WORKER"

Helen Keller's darkened childhood turns to the light of understanding under the tutorship of Annie, a girl who was previously blind. The story is packed with emotion and also some humor as it pictures the hopelessness of the family and Helen's complete lack of discipline. Members of the family and servants alike have spoiled the "poor child", until Helen is too much of a burden for her family.

After Annie arrives to "teach the child something" sparks fly—not only between Annie and Helen, but also between Annie and Captain Killer. Annie's sensitive insight coupled with her Irish temper finally win over Helen and the Captain. Everyone viewing the performances of this great play will long recall its message of courage and hope.

SPEECH

An increased number of students participated in the eight speech categories this year. These activities, co-ordinated by Mr. McDonald, are begun in the fall in preparation for the local, sub-district, district, region, and state contests which are held in March and April. The categories from which participants can choose are serious or humorous interpretive, original or non-original oratory, discussion, storytelling, or extemporaneous prose or poetry.

'65

Queen Kathy Olson and Dan Larson, her choice for Mr. Snoman.

"Do the hammerlock," growls Ned Jimmerson.

Student Council members Jan and Paul make preparations for the coronation.

Snoball royalty: Sophomore attendant Debbie Dosen, Queen Kathy Olson, and Junior attendant Debbi Araskog.

Snoball '65 was held in the beautifully decorated gold and white cafeteria on the evening of February 19. As students entered the cafeteria they were greeted by the great sound of the Pied Pipers. This combo was composed of five boys from our own FFHS.

Later on in the evening the names of the royalty were revealed by Student Council President Curt Thompson. Debbie Dosen was chosen as sophomore attendant, Debbi Araskog as junior attendant, and Kathy Olson was crowned Queen Snoball. The royal couple began a progressive dance after which more music and fun was provided to bring Snoball '65 to a satisfying close.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PARTY

Late November found the sophomores gathering in the cafeteria for the annual sophomore class party. In between "jerking" to the latest hit songs or after furious games of ping pong these active underclassmen consumed vast quantities of pop and potato chips. Comments on the party ranged from "lots of fun" to "time to leave?—it just started."

Cold Cokes are eagerly awaited by the "Three D's".

"Turn around Nan!"

ANNUAL DANCE

John and Debbie do the latest.

Cobras provide the entertainment.

Buying pictures requires strict concentration.

SADIE HAWKINS

"I ketched 'im all by mah lonesome."

"Howdy, folks!"

Purty as a polecat.

Connie only smiles when Guy wails, "These American dances are just too much!"

Measles?

"My group had 34% fewer cavities," boasts Wally.

Having made their selections from the large assortment of available boys at FFHS, the female students escorted their catches to the Sadie Hawkins dance on November 13. Those who attended found difficulty in recognizing one another, for each person had created his own humorous costume in competition for a prize.

To add to the hillbilly atmosphere, an authentic outhouse was placed between the folding gym doors which separated the dancers from the game players. Although prizes could not be won by everyone, the couples had great fun dancing and sliding off the haystacks.

ANNUAL '65

Another year—1965—another annual, but this is our annual, because we as have worked to make this last memory book of our school days here at F.F.H.S. a special book.

The layout staff, supervised this year by Mrs. Bormann and Mr. Formick, had editors who carefully laid the book out, however, scores of pictures were taken by the student and professional cameramen. Along with the photos came the stories written by senior reporters. The copy editors revised, while both editors and assistant editors worked hard on captions to go with the pictures. Typists labored many hours on producing "clean copy" for the stories.

Our annual, the '65 OTTER TALES, would still be a dream if the business staff, advised by Mr. Engan, had not conducted their drive for commercial sponsorship and energetically carried out their sales campaign here at school.

We hope this book will hold for you many wonderful memories of the past year at FFHS.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club, advised by Miss Nobel, is composed of 41 second-year "Deutsch Studenten" who meet one evening each month. The final meeting of the year is devoted to initiation of new members from the German I classes.

The German Club works especially hard each fall on their float for the Homecoming Parade. This year they were duly rewarded for their effort by winning first place in float competition.

FRENCH CLUB

"Bonjour, mes amis" is a familiar greeting heard by the faithful French Club members of FFHS. This club meets each month under the supervision of Miss Stelzig.

At the meetings the students learn to understand more fully the French language and culture. Sometimes they hold discussions or they are shown movies of slides of France and its people.

During the year, the club members made candy and sold it to the student body. They also presented a skit, strictly in the French language, to their fellow French students.

LIBRARY CLUB

Where do students and teachers find answers to the new problems which confront them in this rapidly changing world? Why, in the library, of course.

Fourteen members of the Library Club are on duty during study periods and after school to help locate that particular book so desperately needed. Their other duties include checking books in and out, shelving them, and decorating bulletin boards.

Library Club is open to all Juniors who are interested. Two-year members receive an award.

SCIENCE CLUB

Just as science progresses, so does the Science Club. Varied experiences give members an insight into the wonderful world of science. Wednesday noon meetings may include a guest speaker, a field trip, a movie, or a program by the members themselves.

Each year, the Science Club, supervised by Mr. Anderson, presents a convocation which relates to the field of science.

Spring brings with it flowers and birds and a field trip to Itasca State Park. Members who have been working on projects may display them at the Science Fair held each spring.

This year's officers were Jim Nye, president; Fred Huss, vice president; and Jill Barnum, secretary-treasurer.

30 IN 117

"Deadlines are Sacred" says the author of a well-known journalism text. Meeting deadlines is the constant problem of the Otter staff. Headed by their editor, Gerry Worner, the reporters and photographers and copy editors all find Miss Moen's suggestions and guidance a great help in getting their material ready to go to press. In room 117 Gerry hands out assignments, and those with a nose for news and views go to work. Sleuths dig out information about people and events.

SEATED: Editor in Chief, G. Worner. STANDING: B. Capps, M. Davenport, A. Whipple, M. Rud, D. Bowman, C. Kvernstoen.

Consideration and consultation follow. Will this be acceptable? Have we covered everything? Do we have the right names under the pictures? All sorts of questions haunt the harried editor, but after many hours of rush and revision and hard work, the final copy is prepared and the editor adds the final little symbol of completion "30"—the work is done for this issue!

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is the honorary society for Juniors and Seniors who have done outstanding work in the field of journalism. Members of this organization must have an above average scholastic record and must have had fifty column inches published in The Otter or done outstanding work as editors. New members are accepted at fall and spring initiations.

THOSE OF THE FUTURE FOURTH ESTATE

Who are those sophomores wandering around the study hall on Tuesday evenings? They're members of the Journalism Club, of course. These 50 or so future members of THE OTTER staff meet under the supervision of Miss Moen. During the year they learn the fundamentals of journalism through the preparation and writing of news, feature, and sports stories.

The climax of their months of preparation comes toward the close of the year when they take part in producing the final OTTER of the year.

HEALTH CAREERS

To those considering a health profession, the Health Careers Club is a great asset. Noon meetings consisting of educational films and entertaining speakers give members an opportunity to increase their knowledge of the many health careers.

Advising the club this past year were Mrs. Jean Carlson, school nurse, and Mrs. Dorothy Porter of the Lake Region Hospital Auxiliary. Visitation during M.E.A. of several nursing schools in Minneapolis was a highpoint of the year's activities.

Through its meetings the Health Careers Club hopes to interest more girls in medical fields.

RED CROSS

Through the International, Community Service and Production, Program and Publicity, and Finance committees, the High School Red Cross continues the fulfillment of its motto: "We Serve." By assisting at immunization clinics and blood banks, Red Cross members are instrumental in helping their community and school. Baskets of canned food are distributed to needy families before Thanksgiving. One of the more important aims of the organization is to enable a student exchange through the foreign student fund.

FTA

Giving out apples to Fergus Falls teachers, sponsoring the homecoming tea, and granting two $50.00 scholarships are all annual projects of the Future Teachers of America. This organization for interested future teachers uses speakers from various colleges, panels of teachers from schools throughout the city, and films to introduce members to the teaching profession.

Members get first hand teaching experience during teaching careers month and participate in FTA Day by visiting and observing a nearby college.

SOTA

Second-year stenography students who are interested in advanced secretarial work belong to the Secretaries of Tomorrow Association.

During the year, speakers inform members about the secretarial work in various businesses, and experience is gained through the use of business machines.

Concessions were sold at football and basketball games to help finance the Homecoming float and a dinner for SOTA Club members.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Planning for Homecoming was the first major activity undertaken by the Student Council this year. To help advertise the event, members sold booster buttons and lapel tickets. On Homecoming evening the annual dance was held.

The Sadie Hawkins dance followed. For this event the girls got a chance to ask the boys, while a dog-patch theme prevailed.

Decorating the school kept the Council busy at Christmas time and in February they sold and delivered Valentine telegrams. The Snoball dance, held in the beautifully decorated cafeteria, climaxed the year's activities.

G.A.A.

Each Thursday noon in the South Gym a group of active high school girls meets to participate in sports of all kinds. The members of the Girls' Athletic Association use their energy in playing such games as basketball, ping pong, and field hockey. Together they learn the meaning of good sportsmanship and friendly competition. These ambitious girls gain not only athletic skill but also a feeling of co-operation and team spirit.

PEP CLUB

Fergus High's energetic Pep Club does much to boost the spirits of the students through its many small projects. Initiating new cheerleaders and decorating a cheerleaders' float for the Homecoming parade are just two of its many activities which are under the direction of Mrs. Boldenow and the cheerleaders. The witty posters lining the halls before each game are a much appreciated novelty of the club.

FANTASYLAND GREETS PROM GOERS

The excitement and splendor of "Cinderella's Ball" was relived by the Juniors and Seniors of FFHS on the evening of May 2, 1964. The honored guests led off the evening's activities by taking their special seats in the dining hall, where the choice foods of "Cinderella's Royal Feast" were served.

Following the dinner, Sir Thompsolot, master of ceremonies, introduced such highly entertaining musical groups as "The Sistie Uglers," "The Fairies Four," and "The Four Coachmen." Words of wisdom were offered by Mr. Woolson in his "Royal Proclamation!" A skit was presented by Juniors who gave their hilarious interpretation of "The Twelfth Hour."

Under a blanket of turquoise and white streamers, the class officers led the couples in a grand march around an enchanted castle. As the band started to play and the lights dimmed, the students began a gala evening of dancing.

Curiosity about how machines operate coupled with a willingness to devote hours to using their knowledge to help run the projectors, tape recorders, language lab mechanisms, and school intercom—all this marks the members of the 1964-65 Audio-Visual group.

Mr. Brudvig instructs the boys and guides them in their various areas of service here at school.

School life is facilitated by their efforts, and the boys are getting experience in interesting work.

STAGE CREW

Have you ever wondered who those boys are that come running out and fix the microphone during convocations? They are members of the stage crew, a capable group of boys selected by Mr. Brudvig, the advisor. All work together faithfully to operate the lights for convocations and class plays, and to set up the stages for homecoming and special programs. The many programs held in the gym run smoothly because of the behind-the-scenes work of the stage crew. Service—seen and unseen—marks the entire group.

Boys belonging to the Future Farmers of America have opportunities to learn such useful practices as efficient dairying and soil conservation. They also participate in various livestock judging contests. This year forty members attended the national plowing contest held in Plowville, U.S.A., in North Dakota.

The goal of F.F.A. is to promote such traits as patriotism, citizenship and thrift.

M.D.V.C.

Members of the Minnesota Diversified Vocations Club work and study in a related subjects class. Here they meet real life situations of today's business world and learn the responsibilities of employees. They also get some on-the-job training.

Mr. Russell Washburn also leads the group in becoming familiar with the employer-employee relationship and helps them develop a practical business attitude.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"You Can't Take It With You," a three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman was presented by the Senior class March 29 and 30. Mr. James McDonald directed the play assisted by student directors, Jonette Rotto and Sandy Stubbs.

The play depicts life around the Vanderhof home. Each member of this rather unusual family pursues his or her own individual interests; Penny paints and also writes novels; Essie practices ballet and makes candy; Paul and DePinna make fire crackers; and the eccentric but lovable Grandpa attends commencements and keeps pet snakes.

Alice Vanderhof, who has fallen in love with her boss' son, Tony Kirby, is afraid to bring Tony home to this rather chaotic household in the fear he will break off the engagement. Things really become exciting when the Kirbys visit the Vanderhof home and end up spending the night in jail! However, as the curtain falls Grandpa saves the day by patching things up between Alice and Tony.

THESPIANS

The 1964-65 Thespian troupe was one of the busiest FFHS has ever seen. In addition to presenting a three-act play in the spring and attending "Richard the Third" at the Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis, the troupe also planned for the initiation of new members and presented Otscar awards to the students who gave outstanding performances in the various school productions. Senior members emceed at school convocations. Innovations this year included sponsoring two Sophomore one-act plays and making vests for members to wear at Thespian functions.

ONE-ACT PLAY

A cutting from "The Great Highway" by Arnold Strindberg was the play entered in competition under the category Serious. It is the story of the Hunter who is trying to find his station in life. In his travels he encounters a Hermit, a Traveler, a Japanese, a Murderer, a Small Child, and a Blind Woman. All of these have an influence on him. The play ends with the Hunter on his knees in despair, pleading with God to bless him and ease his suffering.

SOPHOMORE PLAYS

"Riders to the Sea" by John Millington Synge and "The Still Alarm" by G. S. Kaufman were presented on October 21 by the sophomore class under the direction of James McDonald.

"Riders to the Sea" is a tragedy concerning the families of an Irish fishermen's village. These families are always faced with the prospect of losing their loved ones and being without someone to care and provide for them.

"The Still Alarm" is a satirical comedy based upon the nonchalant reactions of two guests when they learn the hotel in which they are staying is on fire.

Villagers and family mourn the death of Bartley.

ORCHESTRA

As Mr. Hedland climbs the podium and taps the stand with his baton, sixty-five orchestra members, consisting of string, woodwind and percussion players, come to attention. The whole group practices fourth hour on Tuesday and Thursdays, and the string members meet alone on Fridays while the woodwinds section goes to band.

The orchestra played at numerous events such as the annual Christmas concert, the spring concert, and commencement. This spring the music festival, which included the orchestras of several schools from our surrounding area, was held at F.F.H.S. This annual event was the highlight of the season for the orchestra.

CLASS OF 1965

MR. L. E. WERMAGER
Superintendent
Concordia College, B.A., University of Minnesota, M.A.

Every year brings its own particular emphasis or special challenge to us as citizens of this great nation and this troubled world. This year has pointed up the great need for human integrity and honesty. A straight-forward presentation and honest evaluation of what we are, where we are, and where we are going is most necessary. The need for a re-evaluation and true rededication to our principles of democracy, to a true brotherhood of man and a world-wide re-awakening of the need for developing the good in man is evident. If we are to have true progress it must come through the efforts and lives of good men—good men who work in the framework of a good philosophy, a good philosophy of government, a good philosophy of economics, a true philosophy of religion and a good daily life. Your generation will be called upon to prove whether this great need, brought out so forcefully in so many ways during this year, can be fulfilled.

L. E. WERMAGER, Superintendent

Just as children in a family need the direction and care of parents, so students need direction in their intellectual growth. Those who look after us for the greater part of our waking hours are trained to guide us in the paths of learning. Besides guiding us in classes and outside activity, they help us in our personal development by their concern. Extra-curricular activities claim much of our interest as students and also much of their time as teachers. They give hours to planning for our activities and more hours to correcting papers. We remember teachers for all these reasons, but perhaps even more for what they were.

MR. EDWARD W. BECHTEL
Principal
University of Minnesota, B.A., M.A.

FENNY,

Sometimes you turn me on. You never turn me off. HA, HA, it sounds like the beginning of a poem doesn't it. Well, to begin with I want to say that I used to think you were hard to figure out and now I still think you're hard to figure out. It's been fun having you in art and English and I wish you were graduating too. I might see you on a bot car sometime, and if I do, we'll have a blast! Plenty of booze and plenty of time one but you and me. Wow! when can we go! Good luck to you and I see you again. Good bye. Love Lulerne

Penny -
It sure has been fun having you in English. Take it easy on the boy this summer. KAY

Penny Penny Do Jenny
You are the #1 goof off & love ya that way. By head is in a continuous spin from trying to figure out all your male complexities. Good luck with tomorrow's boy (today is probably out of it)! It was fun & I'm glad I was gone on with you when I can help you from Graham Hall. Beat Dixie
Back to Study Hall. Sweet Dixie -
Be near Sweet

and no
and I do hope

"That's all, that's it!" - The end

Penny Just, am I ever going to miss you next year. Gosh, we've had alot of fun. Third hour just made my day. I just love Mrs. Noren and Mrs. Jensen they were really nice to us, weren't they!
We've had so many talks together about all your boy friends and my one! It still it got alot off my mind especially when Dan and I were fighting which was most of the time. I sure hope you will be able to pick the one you like the best pretty soon! But you'll have fun doing it, like in every thing else you do.
Sure hope you can break away from Mr. Savage's apron strings! That would be great. I can't wait 'til you get out of the little difficulty you're in. So be real good! Ok? Good luck next year Penny

Love ya
Carol

Dearest, dearest Dollon —

As you can see - by the handing, I've even had the waiting about value two hours. Oh I've even had the waiting about all the experiences you and I have shared together — well, I don't know, but I bet I could write a dozen more if I don't have to remind you beans. But then, I guess I'll only have you for a long time to come!

Some mainpoints: Remember when I asked if I could go to Cal. with you? Then the time we almost ran away? How about going to Buck. to the show and then Sarah's came. Then that week-end Bob got back with me and you'll've still SWIFTLY TOOLING. This ain't as much as I wanted it to be but everybody is running around and it's hard for me to concentrate. Anyway, I've been talking and it's hard for me to do that with so much going on. I don't even know that you're writing in yet. But this, Penny, is the only person whose opinion counts. I don't even know what else to write now but I'm

-Penny.
It's almost over for me anyway.
Don't think it hasn't been fun. We've had fun in this class inspite of Old Joe. You're a nut and that's the way
I'll always remember you.

Penny,
Well, I finally made it. Pretty soon you'll be graduating too.
Time flies. Don't forget the good times we've had, there've been a few.
Remember "Leak", art class with Miss Maggie and all the treats. I managed to take up a lot of this year — but, you know, detention was fun. Take it easy this summer — I'll probably see you out at Bal sometime).
Keep swingin'.
Love,
Kathy

I think I just got to know you - when I came into a dance with my smoke & small d my dollar. Then I got to know you better and better - and then we started ubbing a lot (with Yens and Jerry) Oh did we have fun!

Remember roasted Sunday-? I had Yens car, then I had my car, then I d Yens car and we tooled, tooled, tooled, and we tooled some more - Remember saw those boys from California and unfortunately they didn't see us!
hen we went out and ate and went over to Yens - but naturally everything at is good has got to end - And Penny walked out and went back to town!
ny and Penny weren't getting along!

Oh we really had a lot of fun while it lasted - (I mean we happy 4 - some -) Remember at that dance at the school when we arranged so I could go me with Yens? Then I drove for you and Jerry while you guys ~~made out~~!
unny or what! Oh and then there was the time you got in a little of trouble for coming home 3 hours late that Sunday night - Remember when we were trying to think of excuses - "Besides that we didn't have a car." - ha!

Well I hope I see you alot this summer and maybe we can get together some time and relive old times! Right?

Actually I agree with Dan - don't change - you're great, a lot of fun, someone to talk to, someone to laugh with (and at), and someone to be good friends with - and remember our theme song " Hello Ditches "!

A friend,
Jane.
